

BDC Members Guide To UKC Registration

Todd Kellam, UKC

To begin the process, download the BDC single registration form, designed exclusively for BDC members, or call UKC to have forms sent to you. This form is available at www.ukcdogs.com.

The first thing you will need to make sure to do is to indicate whether or not your dog has already earned a BDC Championship. This will allow UKC to provide you with a pedigree that is current in regards to BDC titles previously earned. Once your dog is UKC registered, it will no longer be necessary for the dog owner to update UKC on new championships for the dog that is registered. The system will be designed to recognize subsequent championships and issue degrees. Make sure you include this information.

As is the case with most UKC single registrations, dogs from the Gun Dog group must be registered with a UKC acknowledged registry in order to be eligible for UKC registration. The registries accepted by UKC for the pointing breeds are listed on the back of the single registration form. They include: AKC, FDSB, FCI, NAVHDA, and Canadian Kennel Club. You will need to include with your UKC single registration application a photo copy of your registration certificate from one of these registries.

For your dog's pedigree information, you may either fill out the pedigree blank on the form by hand or attach a photo copy of the pedigree supplied to you by the other registry.

The only thing left to do is simply fill out the rest of the single registration form, sign it and include the registration fee. The whole process should not take longer than 15 minutes. Of course it would take me longer than that just to find my dogs papers, but if you are more organized than I am, it will not take long and is certainly not complicated. (Special note: in order for dogs in your dog's pedigree that have earned BDC titles to show up as such, they must be UKC registered. Any dogs that have been titled that are now deceased will need to follow all of the above requirements but will be registered free of charge.)

Single registration applications are typically processed and mailed within 7-10 business days upon receipt at the UKC office. You will receive a registration certificate and three generation performance pedigree. (You will also receive a UKC Easy Entry Card which is something required to enter events in some of our other UKC programs and automatically goes out with each set of papers. Each dog's Easy Entry card contains all pertinent dog information in one quick and easy place for easy reference.) Additionally, if your dog has earned a championship with BDC, you will receive a UKC Championship Certificate and the championship will be noted on your UKC pedigree. Dogs that go on to earn a championship after being registered, and Champions that go on to earn additional championships will receive champion certificates soon after reports are processed at no additional fee. You will not receive a new set of registration papers with each additional championship but may order an updated pedigree at a reduced rate any time you earn a new title.

Once you get your dogs registered with UKC, be sure to Litter Register offspring from those dogs in the future. Litter registration is even less time consuming and cheaper than single registering only those dogs you think you will end up running. If you breed to a dog that is not UKC registered, encourage the owner to do so and your pups will still be eligible for litter registration (provided the dog meets the single registration requirements). UKC registration and dual registration does two things. It adds value to your pups, and it encourages puppy buyers to participate in future BDC events. And that is a win/win situation!
